

19-20, 7-3 CUNYAC CUNYAC Tournament Semifinalist

James Mardikos
Pitcher

Undergoing a new look, the Dolphins made an impact in 2009. This year's installment of the team saw the debut of head coach Michael Mauro along with a group of veterans and a long line of newcomers both on the coaching staff and roster.

Despite the 19-20 overall finish, the team finished 7-3 in the CUNYAC, seeding them third in the CUNYAC Post Season Tournament. As an underdog, the Dolphins defeated the No. 2 seeded John Jay Bloodhounds, 11-4, before being toppled in consecutive games to eventual-champion Baruch College and Mitchell College. Still, the run was an impressive one for what is a predominantly young team.

The Dolphins had kicked off the season in late-February with a Spring Training weekend in Salisbury, Maryland, followed by many highlighted events during the season. Colorado Rockies pitcher and Staten Island native Jason Marquis amongst other professional players visited the team during preseason, and in mid-April the team honored former coach Bill Cali with a number retirement ceremony. CSI held their 6th annual Grace Hillery Breast Cancer Awareness Night, raising over $5,000 for the Staten Island Breast Cancer Research Initiative, the highest amount raised in its six year run. At season's end, eight CSI players were named to the CUNY Athletic Conference All Star Team while Mauro was selected as Coach of the Year.

Having won the CUNYAC title in five of the last seven years and with a solid foundation in 2009, CSI hopes to yield even greater results in 2010 and beyond.

Michael Mauro
Head Coach

After serving as an assistant coach in 2008, Mauro took over the reigns as head coach prior to the 2009 season at CSI to much fanfare.

Mauro's coaching experience expands far beyond his service to CSI. In 2000, he was named an assistant coach at Tottenville High School, a position he had until his assistant coaching position at CSI. There, he was a part of three PSAL City Championships, earning the Northeast High School Baseball Coaches Association Assistant Coach of the Year honors in 2003. Prior to joining the Pirates, Mauro had assistant coaching stops at New Utrecht High School (1999-00) and Moore Catholic High School (1996-97).

An accomplished player, Mauro started his college career at John Jay College and played for three years, twice being named an NCAA Division III 2nd-team All-American at shortstop. Upon finishing his junior season, Mauro signed a professional free-agent contract with Major League Baseball's Detroit Tigers. The infielder played for the Bristol Tigers (American League) and was promoted to the Niagara Falls Rapids of Class A (New York Penn League).

After being released by the Tigers in 1991, Mauro joined the New York Police Department, and finished his studies at the College of Staten Island, earning a bachelor's degree in Sociology.

A Staten Island native, Mauro and his wife, Janene, reside in Sunnyside, Staten Island, with their children Alexandra and Michael, Jr.
